Pastor's Note

I lived with Fr. Bill at Our Lady of Lourdes church in Toronto. Fr. Bill was a former missionary to northern India and had been at the parish for over two decades. He was much loved – he always had a new joke and allowed others to care for him, that is, to love him. He was like everyone's grandfather. When he received some gift or food, I would tease him, saying, "Now remember Bill, the Son of Man came to serve and not to be served." Then we would both laugh. I said this to Fr. Bill because I knew he had lived a life of dedicated service. Service for a Christian is not an option. It is a command certainly – "Love your neighbour as yourself," but so too is it the necessary consequence of our faith. Service flows from our faith in and relationship with Jesus Christ. A Jesuit once said to me that we are like a bowl without a bottom. God's love and mercy, and his graces flow into us, and then flows out of us into the world. And we do this because it is what the Lord has first done.

Saint Paul reminds the Christian community in Thessaloniki, that he and his disciples did not sit idly while they were with them. So as not to be a burden, St. Paul and the others worked to earn their keep. Paul was there to serve. Pope Francis often cautioned us of clericalism. In clericalism, the priest or religious is given special treatment, held on a pedestal. Francis taught that clericalism leads to priests and religious feeling superior and distances them from the people. It seems that with clericalism, the people are there to serve the priest or religious rather than they being at the service of the people. In imitation of the Lord, priests and religious, and every Christian is here to serve. Our Christian service is not merely part of the "job description." It is most perfectly a response. Through an awareness and knowledge of God's service to us, we in turn seek to serve him back by serving his children. It is love in response to love. And so, we are like a bowl without a bottom – love flows into you and love flows out through you.

God bless and take care,
Fr. John

The Daily Examen (Change of Dates)

St. Ignatius of Loyola thought that the Examen was a gift that came directly from God, and that God wanted it to be shared as widely as possible. Discover the treasure of this daily prayer and learn how to incorporate it in your daily conversation with the Lord. Over the next five Mondays, Fr. John will give five recorded talks which will be made available to you through our website, our Youtube channel and flocknote. We had a little difficulty in our scheduling and so we have revised the dates for The Daily Examen. We apologize for the inconvenience.

Novena of the Immaculate Conception:

November 29 to December 7

The Immaculate Conception Novena begins on Saturday, November 29 (nine days before the feast of the Immaculate Conception). The novena and Feast of the Immaculate Conception is a beautiful opportunity to reflect on Mary's life and the profound mystery of God's Grace at work through the Son. We strive to imitate Mary as an ideal example of the Christian life lived for God. The novena offers an opportunity to ask Mary to give you the grace to imitate her profound response to the love God poured into her heart. Our Novena is available through Flocknote:
