Pastor's Note

For the most part, I viewed and tried to live a version of Christianity that was limited. I didn't know it was limited at the time. I thought of our faith as a life of moral imitation. For example, I would hear a story from the Gospel and see how Jesus acted. I would then try and do the same under similar circumstances. If someone wronged me, I would try and forgive because it is what the Lord did. This is a good way to live the Christian life, but it is not its totality. It's good but it remains more on the surface rather than emanating from within the person. God has more to offer and give.

In Saint Paul's Letter to the Romans, we hear Paul say, "put on the Lord Jesus Christ." To "put on the Lord Jesus Christ" is to put on his life. Our faith is not a philosophy. It is a mystical union between God and the person. We are offered his life to become our own life. It is offered by God, and requires our desire for it, our request for the grace and our cooperation with the Lord in making it a continually growing reality. This is how we are to understand the gift God offers to us. We are not merely those who try and imitate, though that's certainly good, but he has elevated us to bear him as our life. And so, we may still try and respond and act as he does, yet now there is a difference – "it is no longer I who live but he who lives in me." We are putting on Christ.

God bless and take care,

Fr. John
